

Computer Club meeting April 3, 2019

I've been ask several times "Where do you get all your information from?"

So here is a list of many of my most used resources and in no particular order:

1. Marc Saltzman, is a high-tech reporter and often his column can be found in the Ft. Myers News Press. He can be reached on Twitter @marc_saltzman. He also writes for the Costco magazine. There you can email him at connection@costco.com He has a website: <https://marcsaltzman.com/> and a podcast (although I've never heard it). Marc was the first person I ever heard talk about "smishing".
2. Those great videos about outer space and the Tesla sports car are from Leo Laport. He also has a website (called the TWIT network (this week in tech) and a podcast that I love to listen to on Saturday & Sunday nights at bedtime). <https://leolaporte.com/> I really enjoy his podcasts & videos. See or hear them at <https://techguylabs.com/> I have a "podcasts" app on my iPhone and iPad which allows me to choose from many different podcasts.
3. A magazine called "The Week" is mostly current news, they have a variety of articles on current & new technology. <https://theweek.com/search/March%2029>
4. One of my favorite resources when reviewing new gadgets & gizmos is Dick Debartolo. Who is known as the "gizwiz" guy. You can find him at <http://gizwizbiz.squarespace.com/> I've been following him since I lived in Baltimore.
5. I also signed up with the Malware Bytes website (<https://www.malwarebytes.com/>) and get the latest on viruses & phishing scams. Emails are informative and not a pain-in-the-ss.
6. I get information from Nextdoor Neighbor. <https://nextdoor.com>. Specifically I look at https://nextdoor.com/crime_and_safety/ for information from the Lee County Sheriffs Office.
7. From the Lee County Sheriff's office I am mostly interested in the page: <https://secure.coplogic.com/dors/en/filing/selectincidenttype?dynparam=1554078282131>
8. Kim Komando is the host of a radio show about consumer technology. Compared to Leo Laport (who provides all of his advice & information at no charge) Kim offers similar information about technology. She frequently writes articles for the USA today paper – which is an addition to the Fort Myers News Press. Her website is <https://www.komando.com/>
